

TINLEY PARK CARNIVAL OPENS FRIDAY

MARLEY CELEBRATES MONDAY
ALBERT KRUSEMARK, SPEAKERSpanish-English
Teacher at L-W

Miss Theresa Hartman of Pesotum has been employed to teach Spanish, World Language, and two classes in freshman English Miss Hoffman is a graduate of the Tuscola Community High School, received her A. B. degree from the University of Illinois, and will complete her Master of Education degree from Illinois this summer. She has taught three years in the Lake View High School at Decatur, and one year in the Mason City High School.

Miss Hoffman was active in university activities and received several scholastic awards, being a member of the National Honor Society. She was a member of Sigma Delta Pi and Alpha Lambda Delta.

The LincolnWay course in World Language will be a one year course in introduction to World Languages and Cultures. It will be offered in the ninth grade as an elective offering to counteract the dangers of narrow technical specialization, to broaden social and cultural horizons, and to enable the students as future voters to take a more active interest in the world affairs. Such an offering would place central emphasis on the contributions of past and present world civilizations to our American language and culture, and afford some direct experiences with modern foreign languages through the medium of songs, practical dialogues and the like.

Subsidizing of P.O.
Make Errand Boys
Of Mail Carriers?

by C. Wilson Harder, as released by National Federation of Independent Business.

Some in Washington claim they see no great difference between this and former administration.

While this viewpoint is debatable there is no doubt present Administration has been successful in bringing businessmen into government.

But business experience is of little use unless utilized.

Such a problem faces Postmaster General Arthur W. Summerfield, heading operation doing $2 1/2 billion per year with a force of 552,194 employees.

The Post Office is a very fine service except for one thing.

It loses a lot of money every year. Losses now approach the $3.4 billion per year mark. No businessman can contemplate red figures with ease, even when red figures are forced by law.

At present taxes subsidize much corporation advertising.

A first class letter costs three cents per ounce, or a rate of 48c per pound. The letter must be addressed to an individual.

But big firms sending out advertising matter, coupons, and other material get a rate as low as 10 cents per pound.

In addition, they need not be addressed. Just sent to "occupant" of the street, address and Post Office must deliver with reasonable promptness.

Thus for 1 1/2 cents big firms can require U. S. postal service to be errand boys delivering advertising material right to the door.

If the firm decides to put out a printed advertising booklet of 24 pages or more, and sends them to every residence, the charge for this messenger service is only 10 cents per pound.

But anyone sending by parcel post a birthday present to Aunt Emma must pay 16 cents a pound if she is in the immediate locality, or 32 cents per pound if Aunt Emma lives at the opposite end of the nation.

Even mail order catalogs are tax subsidized. While parcel post rates range from 18 to 32c for the first pound, and 1.45 to 18.05c for each additional pound the big mail order catalog rates range from 10 to 18c for the first pound, 1.5c to 11c for each additional pound.

In other words, under the present laws, the general users of the postal service pay twice to subsidize the huge floods of direct mail advertising released by a few big corporations. The public pays both higher rates and taxes to make up deficit caused by huge flood of subsidized advertising.

There is an attempt in Congress to remedy this to some degree. Congressman E. H. Rees, chairman of House Post Office Committee reports committee has recommended direct mail pieces now carried to householders for 1 1/2 cents be raised to 2 cents. This would be a partial solution but still leaves direct

With the inviting words "Remember the Fourth on the Fifth" Marley is all ready to give residents and visitors an Independence day celebration that will stay in their minds as a red letter day.

Marley's annual celebration will be held Monday July 5 in the Woodland on the Art Lauffer farm on west 167th St.

Those who do not care to bring their own refreshments will find a cafeteria dinner available on the grounds. Everything will be home cooked and guaranteed to tempt the most finicky appetite.

Albert H. Kruse will make the address of the day. He is well known as a forceful speaker and is expected to give an outstanding talk.

In addition to the speaker and the picnic dinner there will be games and various events for the entertainment of both grown ups and children. The Marley celebrations have always been enjoyable and successful and this year is expected to maintain or surpass their proud record.

The Marley church brotherhood is sponsoring the celebration and everybody is invited to come.

mail advertising, especially in booklet and catalog form, enjoying a huge rate of subsidization. While doing more business is normally considered a way to prosper, Post Office can't even afford to handle large part of present business.

But even proposed half cent increase on present huge volume would go long way to wipe out current losses. Naturally, there is strong opposition to this move by those who enjoy special privilege of a government tax subsidized advertising service.

A Thought For This Independence Day

by Victor F. Hayden

Next Monday we celebrate the Fourth of July, the 178th year of our independence. In former years it was a day for patriotic speeches which fired the spirit of those fortunate enough to be American citizens.

Now it is largely spent in attending ball games, going to picnics, making auto trips or viewing community fireworks. The Revolution has faded so far into the past that we take for granted the blessings gained for us by the heroic Continental army.

Of course there is nothing wrong with the present methods of observing the Fourth. Except that it does not go far enough. We could all profitably take a little time out for some patriotic thinking.

The surrender at Yorktown was not the end of the war for Independence. It was only an armistice. The great war—hot or cold—will continue so long as free men have stout hearts to oppose those who would enslave humanity.

America has fought many wars for freedom. It fought in 1812 to defend the right of its citizens to sail the seas without being taken off American ships to be impressed into an alien navy. It fought in 1918 for the freedom of the world against the tyranny of an ever spreading Nazism.

Today we are fighting a subtler war. It is a veritable Armageddon for the conquest of the mind. America probably cannot be conquered by force of arms. But it can lose if our citizens sleep at the ramparts and allow themselves to be drugged by the opiate of adroit propaganda. The history of most Russian satellites is that they were taken by boring from within.

Communist propaganda is effective because it is plotted and schemed by psychologists who make a full time job of seeking to ensnare the minds of other peoples. A poisonous thought is wrapped in the tinsel of false Americanism. On the surface it seems like something that would be helpful. The gimmick is discovered when it is too late to wiggle off the hook. This is not because we are less intelligent than our enemies, but because we are more honest. It does not occur to us to listen for the dull ring of the counterfeit coin.

The Communist studies his idea of government. The average American does not. This makes him easier prey in a battle of wits. A man who considers himself a good American becomes half convinced. He expresses his opinions to others and they are readily accepted for the very reason that he is IS considered an American. Thus false and dangerous thinking spreads like a pestilence.

Let us on this Independence day of 1954 resolve to become Minute Men of the 20th century. Let us resolve to know all there is to know about our government and our way of life. Learn why the United States has the government that gives us the most freedom and opportunity and should never be exchanged.

It will pay each of us to take time out and read again the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. Have all the answers, just as the enemy has all the answers to their preposterous theory. Our minds are the vital line of defense. Defend with the powerful weapon of information.

To your posts O Minute Men!

St. James Saves
Mother by Using Blood Infusion

"St. James hospital's facilities saved my life."

With these words, Mrs. Gertrude Pelouquin of Alpine returned home this week with her brand new baby girl.

Mrs. Pelouquin was admitted to St. James' Chicago Heights nearly two weeks ago suffering from severe bleeding caused by an abnormal condition prior to the birth of her child. Her doctor then performed a Caesarian section, delivered her baby, but Mrs. Pelouquin continued to hemorrhage.

When immediate transfusions of six pints of blood from the hospital blood bank failed to bring the bleeding under control, Mrs. Pelouquin was given an intravenous transfusion of fibrinogen, a rare blood derivative, which supplied the blood clotting power lacking in her own blood.

Within half an hour receiving the fibrinogen from the St. James Blood bank, Mrs. Pelouquin was well on the road to recovery, according to a hospital spokesman. Her condition a fibrinogenemia, a failure of the blood clotting mechanism, is a medical rarity, hospital authorities said.

"What more can I say except that St. James saved my life," Mrs. Pelouquin said upon her return home. "The treatment and immediate diagnosis I received at the hospital were wonderful."

A BIG FOUR DAY CELEBRATION
GAMES, RIDES AND FUN FOR ALLFormer Local Man
Married in C. of U
Chapel June 20

The bride, looking radiant in a short sleeve white dress with a short train, was attended by Denise Sciaky and Jacqueline Larks who both wore pale turquoise, short organdy dresses.

William Fleming, class mate, was the groom's best man. Roman Thomas, another class mate, was usher. The families and close friends of the bride and groom attended the lovely candlelit ceremony. A large reception was held in the Sherry hotel in Chicago, followed by a champagne supper dance. The couple is honeymooning in New England.

His many friends extend congratulations to the young couple and wishes for a happy and successful life.

New Bulk Tank
At Frk'rt Hdwe.

Edward Lauffer of Frankfort Hardware announces the addition of all stainless steel outside finish bulk tanks to the Green line of bulk milk tanks. Four of them are already in operation in this area.

Frankfort Hardware entered into the bulk tank field over a year ago when bulk cooling installations were just starting in the area.

The Green tank was selected for its advanced design and excellent quality. Mr. Lauffer says it sets the pattern for the industry.

Several months ago when the new round tank with the mirror finish was introduced it was enthusiastically accepted by shippers requiring a tank with a capacity of 14 to 18 cans. The ease of manufacture of the round tank puts it in the low priced field yet it has all the quality and features of the rectangular.

One of the tanks is on display at Frankfort Hardware. Arrangements can be made for anyone wishing to go through the factory in Chicago.

Mr. Lauffer says it would be a distinct advantage for shippers who have to change markets, especially those not having refrigerated cooling, to go directly to bulk cooling. He says this will eliminate the necessity of buying additional cans and a can cooler.

A bulk cooler, he says, pays for itself on an average of two years and there is a ready market for bulk milk.

When they returned Monday, they still had the tackle, practically unused. But the high hopes had been sorrowfully buried deep in the Wisconsin woods.

They report that it rained 13 days out of 16 days in Wisconsin. Not only did they fail to get any fish but they claim they were also insulted. They assert a quizzical looking Northern Pike reared its head out of the water and winked at them.

It is reported the quartette is checking up on the fishing possibilities of the Nevada desert. It hardly ever rains there.

EVEN NOAH WOULD Say "Too Much!"

Four Frankfort men wanted a few days near the water. They got it. Thirteen days of rain.

Wendel Morrison, Ed Warring, Henry Breidert and Herbert Lambrecht set out for Wisconsin and were loaded with fishing tackle and high hopes for a good week end.

Friday evening July 2 will witness the grand opening of Tinley Park's monster four-day Fourth of July celebration and carnival. Large crowds are expected to pour into the village for the big fiesta.

The affair is being handled by the Tinley Park Post 615 American Legion and the Tinley Park fire and police departments. A friendly rivalry exists between these groups as to which will contribute most to the success of the event. Folks have a well founded expectation that they will enjoy a bang up celebration.

Memorial park is the scene of all the events except the street parade.

Fun gets under way at 7 o'clock Friday evening when the carnival will be thrown open to the public.

There will be a merry go round, Ferris wheel, tilt a whirl and kiddies rides, with barkers to point out the points of interest. There will be hot dogs, beverages and other things to help keep up the strength of visitors to a joyful conclusion.

Saturday at 7 p. m. things will open again with an intricate and interesting drill and show by the Tinley Park police and fire departments. The keepers of the peace and the fighters of the flames have put in a lot of time and work practicing and everybody is on the qui vive to see something really worth while.

The fire chief says his men can beat the police. The police chief says "Taint so!" And there you are.

The fire and police drill will be repeated Sunday evening at seven.

The oh's and ah's of admiration and praise will really burst out Monday afternoon. That is the day of the showy competitive parade. It will start at 2 p. m. The line of march starts at 173rd St. east of Oak Park.

There will be marching units and floats. The marching units will be smart and much time and ingenuity has been spent decorating the floats. For the best marching units and the best floats, the following prizes will be awarded: First, $25; second $15; third $10.

The police and fire departments will put on their drill again following the parade.

Then the grand climax! As soon after the drill as it is dark enough on Monday there will be a spectacular display of fireworks. The committee has made a careful selection of these, including rockets and beautiful set pieces.

In addition to all this there will be display booths by various business houses. Women will find a walk through Memorial Park as good as a shopping tour.

All organizations in Tinley Park are participating. Proceeds will be divided among the Legion post and the fire and police departments.

Everybody is urged to attend and help make this community celebration that will be long remembered.

The slogan is "Stay out of traffic. Spend the Fourth in Tinley Park."

Semmler Newspaper Receive Awards

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, editor
and publisher of the Semmler
Newspapers, has been awarded first prize in the direct mail publicity classification by the National Federation of Press Women.

This spring she received three citations from the Illinois Press
Women's Association, first for best editorial, second for best promotion and honorable mention for the best newspaper edited by a woman.

The national award was bestowed at the Federation's convention, held at the Sheraton
hotel in Chicago June 25 and
26. She attended the sessions accompanied by her daughter, Miss Adeline Semmler of the newspaper's staff. Mrs. Ada Lambrecht of Frankfort, society editor of the Chicago Heights Star also attended the convention both days.

Mrs. Semmler says she does not consider these awards as coming to herself personally but rather as the joint distinction of the entire staff which week after week loyally strives to give the readers their very best. Considered as evidence that such service is being rendered to the public she deeply cherishes the bestowals.

But more important than any question of awards Mrs. Sem-mler returned home greatly impressed by the solid character of the convention program. It was a hard working convention full

of thought provoking talks that will doubtless influence the thinking of many women editors
throughout the country.

For example there was the informative talk on race segregation by Max Gilstrap chief of the Christian Science Monitor
midwest bureau, covering 20 states. During World War II he was editor of the Stars and Stripes in Europe and later officer in charge of Yank in the Pacific area.

Mr. Gilstrap made a door to door canvass of several southern states, getting the views of whites and negroes on the proposal that segregation in the schools be abolished. He said his interviews indicated that many negroes themselves do not desire to mingle with the whites.

Other speakers of equally high
caliber were on the program.

Mrs. Semmler was one of a four person panel which answered questions and led the discussion on business office, make up

and shop practice.

Semmler Newspaper

Receive Awards

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, editor

and publisher of the Semmler

Newspapers, has been awarded

first prize in the direct mail

publicity classification by the

National Federation of Press Women.

This spring she received three

citations from the Illinois Press

Women's Association, first for

best editorial, second for best

promotion and honorable mention for the best newspaper edited by a woman.

The national award was bestowed at the Federation's convention, held at the Sheraton

hotel in Chicago June 25 and

26. She attended the sessions accompanied by her daughter, Miss

Adeline Semmler of the news-

paper's staff. Mrs. Ada Lam-

brecht of Frankfort, society editor of the Chicago Heights Star

also attended the convention both

days.

Mrs. Semmler says she does not consider these awards as

coming to herself personally but

rather as the joint distinction of

the entire staff which week after week loyally strives to give

the readers their very best. Considered as evidence that such

service is being rendered to the public she deeply cherishes the

bestowals.

But more important than any question of awards Mrs. Sem-

mler returned home greatly impressed by the solid character of the convention program. It was a hard working convention full

of thought provoking talks that

will doubtless influence the

thinking of many women editors

throughout the country.

For example there was the informative talk on race segregation by Max Gilstrap chief of

the Christian Science Monitor

midwest bureau, covering 20

states. During World War II he was editor of the Stars and Stripes in Europe and later officer in charge of Yank in the Pacific area.

Mr. Gilstrap made a door to door canvass of several southern

states, getting the views of

whites and negroes on the proposal that segregation in the schools be abolished. He said his

interviews indicated that many

negroes themselves do not desire to mingle with the whites.

Other speakers of equally high

caliber were on the program.

Mrs. Semmler was one of a four person panel which answered questions and led the discussion on business office, make up

and shop practice.

"If any of you readers think of your mind."

I've been away on a vacation," said Mrs. Semmler "you can just wipe the thought right out of your mind."

Trinity Lg. Beats Coopers Grove 26-9

The Trinity Walther League Softball team of Tinley Park met Coopers Grove Sunday, after a rest of two weeks from competitive play. This rest must have done them good, for they bashed out 26 hits in beating Coopers Grove 26-9 on the losers' diamond. Les Beccue and Norm Keuch led the offensive attack with 5 and 4 hits, respectively. The Trinity team really showed its power by knocking out a triple and 11 doubles in the 7-inning game.

Bill Koehler pitched good ball for the Trinity team, allowing only 9 runs on 7 hits. The heat finally caught up with Bill, however, for he had to be relieved in the fifth inning, Beccue being called in from short to pitch the last 2 innings. Koehler now has a 2-0 record in the Southwest Suburban Walther League Softball conference. This third victory of the season helped Tinley Park maintain at least tie for first place in the conference standings. The other top contender is Matteson with a 5-0 record.

Tinley Park started off strong in the first inning with 15 men stepping to the plate. The result was an 11 run production on 2 walks, 4 doubles, and 6 singles. Trinity also had an 8-run 5th inning in which 11 men took their turn at the plate. Here is a rundown of the 1st inning.

The leadoff man, George Schultz, opened the game by doubling down the right field line. He scored on a double by Carl Bormet. After Norm Keuch singled and stole second, both men scored on a double to left-center by Les Beccue. Following a strike-out, Don Schroeder singled home Beccue. Warren Schultz led home Beccue, and after a charity pass to Donald Bepalko, Ray Utte singled both men home. Carl Bormet added his second hit of the inning and Keuch came through with a double, scoring Utte and Bormet. A bunt single by Beccue scored Keuch who had stolen third and a wild pitch while Beccue was on third allowed him to score with the final run of the inning.

Girls Softball Notes

by Ruth
The Frankfort Girls Softball team played its first home game Monday night, June 21 and lost to the visiting Oak Forest team. The score in this heartbreaker was 4 to 3.

For Frankfort, it was Arleen Flesher throwing to Pat Boleman, while Oak Forest's battery was Hawrysis pitching and Hayes catching.

Oak Forest got one run in the first inning when Gach reached first on a fielder's choice and scored on overthrow errors. The two runs in the second inning also came by way of error.

Frankfort managed to get two runs in the second inning. Pat Boleman singled to right field, stole second, and advanced to third on Arleen Flesher's hit and then both girls scored on Barbara Muehler's double. Frankfort's only other run came in the third. Irene Benck doubled, advanced to third on Lois Steinbach's single, and scored on Pat Boleman's grounder to the first baseman unassisted.

Barnes, Oak Forest's second baseman, scored their fourth run in the fifth inning and as it turned out it was the winning run.

New Cattle Disease Appears in Illinois

A new cattle disease is making its appearance in Illinois, reports Dr. J. D. Beamer of the College of Veterinary Medicine at the College of Veterinary Medicine University of Illinois.

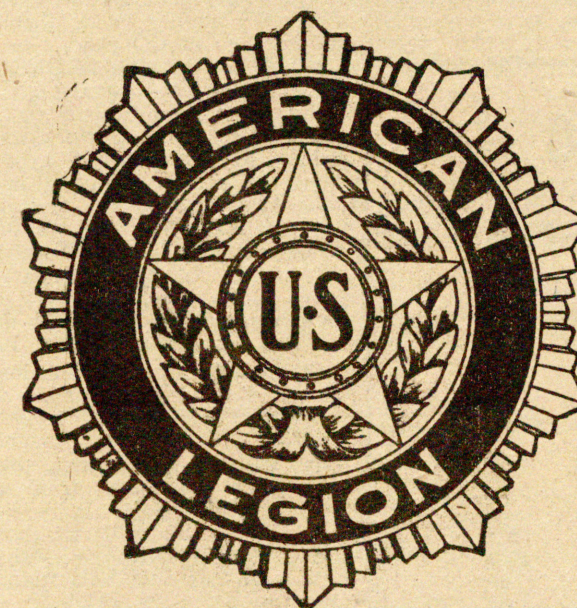

During the past two months, nine calves between six and 14 months old that had died of "Mucosal disease" were sent to the College. Several of the owners of the seven herds from which these calves came reported that other calves had died after showing similar symptoms.

Symptoms of mucosal disease are somewhat similar to those of hyperkeratosis (X-disease) and virus diarrhea. Most cases occur during the late winter and early spring.

At first, cattle develop a fever, which usually drops back to normal within a day or two. During the next three to 19 days, ulcers appear on the nose, muzzle, lips, gums and tongue. The cattle have a bloody diarrhea, drool, go off feed and become run-down and emaciated.

Most affected calves die within 10 days of the time symptoms appear. So far the cause of mucosal disease is not known.

If these symptoms appear in your herd, call your veterinarian right away. He may be able to help you keep mucosal disease from spreading to other calves in your herd.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright, 1954, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

While most of the columnists and business counselors last December forecast a depression for 1954, I constantly insisted that 1954 would be a "fair business year." This you will find in my forecast which then appeared in this paper.

(1) Despite my general optimism with regard to prospects for business during the last half-year, there will be many cross-currents. The improvement over the first six months will be no one-way street. Some industries will lag, or fall behind. Others are slated for betterment. Building has held up well, and was the backbone of business in the first half of 1954. The momentum generated should carry through the balance of the year.

(2) Also deserving of attention as in line for continued high activity, or for improvement, are the following industries: Electric power output, aircraft production, rubber manufacturing, household equipment, electrical equipment, petroleum, natural gas, shoes, and textiles. Even the sick coal industry will enjoy some pickup from the very depressed levels experienced during the first six months of 1954.

(3) Due to slip further down, or slated to show the least improvement, are the following industries: Machinery, machine tools, railroad equipment, metal fabricating, steel and iron, and autos and auto parts. In particular, auto output will not match the first half, with competition keener in the last half than at any time since the 1930's.

(4) As in the case of general business discussed above, sales prospects will rule selective. With purchasing power holding well, demand for food products and soft goods will remain at a brisk pace. The people, however, have learned something about watching their pennies. They have become more price-conscious. For this reason, I predict that the mass distributors such as the grocery and variety chains, will run ahead of the others salewise, during the last half-year.

(5) Retail sales in general, although about 4 per cent lower dollarwise, have held up during the first half in terms of physical volume as discounts and other concessions reduced the actual receipts. This is encouraging since it shows that consumers are still willing to spend if the price is reasonable. In terms of units, retail sales will hold up through 1954. Inventories will constantly be reduced during 1954. The retailers who do best in 1954 will be those with the best parking facilities for their customers.

(6) I forecast that the more liberal attitude on the part of the Eisenhower Administration will surely continue through November and perhaps until the 1956 elections. During the past six months rumors have been spreading to the effect that President Eisenhower will not run again; but there is no agreement at this writing by either party as to who the next candidate will be.

(7) The President has won his conflict with Senator Bricker; the House approved his Tax Bill; the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill has been shelved, to the relief of all; and he has so far kept out of the McCarthy-Army row. I forecast that for the balance of the year he will leave domestic affairs to his associates and devote most of his time to helping Mr. Dulles ward off trouble with Russia and China, and avoid another "Korea."

(8) During the first six months of the year a "New Look" has developed in connection with defense expenditures. Appropriations for foot soldiers and certain classes of airplanes have been cut in favor of items for atomic warfare and guided missiles. Best authorities agree that we will get more protection and fighting strength from this change with less cost. As a promise "to get our boys out of Korea" was a great factor in electing Dwight Eisenhower as President, he naturally will hesitate to send U.S. foot soldiers into Indo-China, at least before the coming November elections.

(9) There will be no World War in 1954 started by Russia or the U.S.A. In the last half of 1954, however, the United States will move closer and closer to the position occupied by Great Britain during the 19th Century. The United States will prepare to engage in small wars anywhere in order to prevent outbreak of a world conflagration.

(10) I predict that the United States in the last six months of 1954 may pass the United Nations and try to form a "defensive" league of nations interested in Southeast Asia. The purpose: To keep the rice, tin, and rubber of that area from falling into Communist hands. Most of the arms and military know-how needed by such an alliance of anti-Communist nations in the Far East will be furnished by Uncle Sam. This means that cuts in arms expenditures, already scheduled for the last half of 1954 by the Administration, may not be put into effect. The Korean situation will remain about as is—"much talkie, no shootie"; but Indo-China will constantly become a greater threat.

(11) Do not forget Europe and the Middle East. France is torn by internal dissension and a blow-off could come there any time. West Germany is growing more impatient with French bickering over the Saar and over the formation of a Western European army including German participation. Russia will strive mightily to widen the split between France and Western Germany by holding out the "bait" of reunion between East and West Germany.

(12) Friction between the Jews and the Arabs in the Middle East is being encouraged by Communist agents. The smoldering fires there could break into flame at any time, requiring a hurry-up call for Uncle Sam's fire department.

(13) Of course, some day the market (especially the Dow-Jones Industrials) will get a bad wallop with very much lower prices. On the other hand, this may not come during the next few months. Up to this time the high yields of stocks have not appeared so much to investors, owing to the personal tax on both dividends and on income in general. Although stock yields compared with those of twenty years ago are higher if personal taxes are not considered, yet when these personal taxes are deducted, today's yields have not been attractive.

(14) The new tax bill and the increased buying for pension funds and investment trusts have, however, increased the demand for common stocks and could hold the market up for some months to come. I forecast that it will be very important to make careful selections of stocks. Don't buy stocks just because they have gone off heavily in price and appear cheap.

(15) Unfortunately, many small concerns will find it more and more difficult to compete with their big competitors. Not only can these big corporations make goods cheaper and have better means of distribution but they can spend huge sums on advertising, which a smaller concern cannot do. This will be especially evident during the next six months. The companies which will prosper most are those which have inaugurated effective labor-saving programs. Manufacturers will win only as they purchase new labor-saving machinery, spend more money on research and on well-directed advertising.

(16) Automobiles will continue to be hard to sell and easier to buy during the last half of 1954. Both the automobile stocks and the cars will be in less demand. There will be more bargains in used cars, discounts on new cars, especially cars of the "independent" manufacturers.

(17) Canada will continue to boom during the second half of 1954, but this may be a good time to take profits on Canadian investments.

(18) When Mr. Eisenhower assumed the Presidency with his Cabinet of "9 millionaires," they proclaimed a new monetary policy which would increase the value of the dollar and raise interest rates. Either fortunately or unfortunately, the economic situation caused a reversal of this policy. The value of the dollar shows no increase over January 1st and this has been hailed by Wall Street as a sign of further inflation. Wall Street has boomed certain common stocks accordingly. Interest rates during the second six months of 1954 should average about as at present.

(19) The fear of involvement in Indo-China is strengthening the commodity markets. This takes some of the pressure off of Secretary Benson and those who have been resisting increased tariffs. I forecast an upward movement in many commodity prices—other than farm prices—during the balance of 1954.

(20) Money supplies are on the rise again now. They will continue to expand during the last half. Inflationary effects on the price level will be limited as our capacity to produce is now large. Remember, the surest way to squelch an inflationary fire is with a flood of goods. Inflationary effects of the expanded money supply could also be nullified by the change in the Government's method of collecting the corporate income tax. The new tax law may put the large corporations on a pay-as-you-go basis, squeezing their cash holdings.

(21) Any psychological inflationary flare-ups that may take place as a result of war scares, big or little, will not be long-lived. They will definitely be dangerous to follow up. A word of warning: Don't get drawn into any speculative moves in commodities or stocks based on the outbreak of a small war. If the need arises, our Government will move with lightning swiftness to put controls into effect. They are already "triggered." The only real danger of any federal tax increases will come with the outbreak of another war.

(22) As to unemployment, I will say that this has increased some over last year, but if considered on a per-capita basis, it is even less than that of five years ago. Look for a moderate reduction in the ranks of the unemployed during the last six months of 1954.

(23) The improvement which I expect in employment should not, however, be sufficient to make union leaders careless. Jobs will still be very much in demand. This should mean that the last half will see no prolonged strikes.

(24) Most union-management settlements will be made with a moderate amount of give and take. Any wage advances will be limited to the neighborhood of a reasonable hourly figure, plus some additional fringe benefits. The Administration and the Labor Leaders will not try to re-vamp the Taft-Hartley Bill during the last six months of 1954.

(25) My forecast as to the various classes of real estate is as follows:

(a) Large commercial farms will experience a further sag in their land values during the last half-year as farmers' gross income dips lower.

(b) Small farms on the fringes of big city suburbs should hold or rise in price as people get further away from city centers. This move could become an avalanche in the event of really serious war scares.

(c) I look for vacant land in the suburbs to hold its value well. In the big cities it may be another story, unless the land is suitable for parking purposes.

(d) Business properties in the big cities may ease somewhat in price during the last six months of this year. Suburban business properties can be expected to hold up. Demand for more shopping centers will be noticeable during the months to come.

(e) Home property (especially the older houses, particularly in the cities) will continue sagging in price. In the suburbs, the bigger houses, even of recent vintage, will be harder to sell. Most salable home properties will be the newer houses in the middle- and lower-price brackets with emphasis on the "ranch-houses" so-called.

(f) In the last half-year, construction will still be a powerful support to our economy as it has been for so long. Seasonally, building will hold well, strengthened by continued liberal credit terms. Some boost to building could come in the second half if civilian defense moves create a "dispersal scare." If this happens, look for a rush by many factories to move operations into areas far from bomb-vulnerable cities.

Conclusion: I cannot end this forecast without reminding readers that we are living in a truly New Era, comparable only with the year A.D. 1954 years ago, or the invention of printing 500 years ago. The H-Bomb, in the hands of any ambitious dictator, could bring about unparalleled conditions. These changes could make the things, about which I have written above, of little value or consequence. Only a great spiritual awakening can save us.

Get a lot more grain ... AT THE TWIST OF A DIAL!

COMBINE

It puts you hours and dollars ahead...every season!

● Just imagine! Without struggling with shims or sprockets—without switching belts or pulleys, you can adjust cylinder speed on this combine to meet the slightest change in crop or field conditions. You simply twist a handy control knob on the Dearborn-Wood Bros. Combine to get any cylinder speed from 430 to 1510 r.p.m.

Think what this means in savings of time and money—as well as grain.

You start combining earlier... work later in the day, when a ripe crop calls for extra-fast action by man and machine. And it's just as easy to adjust concave clearance, sieves and wind blast too. Furthermore, you'll like the way you raise and lower the header, adjust the reel to catch "down" grain—without leaving the tractor seat.

Features like these are built into the Dearborn-Wood Bros. Combine. That's why this six-footer acts even bigger inside. That's why you'll be hours and dollars ahead in many ways—for many seasons.

Stop in and see this rugged machine. Whether you choose the P.T.O. or powerful 25 h.p. air-cooled engine model, you'll realize greater profits on every combining job. So join the many satisfied farmers who have done just that already! Ask about our convenient credit terms.

Will County T.B. Sanatorium is Filling Great Need

Sunny Hill Sanatorium, formerly known as the Will County Tuberculosis sanatorium in Joliet, was built in 1925. The institution operates under the Illinois Tuberculosis act, commonly known as the Glackin act. This act sponsored by a former member of the Illinois legislature, William Glackin, permits upon favorable vote of the people, a county or group of counties to establish and maintain a tuberculosis sanatorium for the purpose of caring for those afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis.

When Sunny Hill sanatorium was established in 1925, tuberculosis was the number one killer in the United States. Today it is still a killer but has dropped to number seven in the death cause list.

The institution is under the direction of three trustees whose terms run for three years each. They are appointed by the chairman of the county board of supervisors. The trustees serve without pay. One of the three must be a licensed physician. They have sole charge of the property and the money to be expended to maintain the institution.

Funds for operating the sanatorium are raised by taxation. The tax money thus raised, is held by the county treasurer and can only be expended by the trustees upon their order.

The Sanatorium was established originally with an administration building and two patient wings containing 60 beds. In 1933 a third wing was added to the building increasing the bed capacity to 98.

With the decline in the incidence of tuberculosis, 10 beds were removed to make a chapel for the patients and four other beds were removed to make way for the rehabilitation department. Rehabilitation and patient activities are an integral part of the treatment of tuberculosis. A full time rehabilitation director is employed and she gives bedside instruction to patients. Two teachers are also employed, one to teach wood working and the other to teach home making. Patients are now able to occupy their time with small bed or bedside hobbies. They are also able to continue their school work if they so desire.

The death rate from tuberculosis has declined steadily the past 12 years in Will county. In 1942 it was 48 per 100,000. It has dropped to less than 11 per 100,000. This is due to the introduction of modern surgery, antibiotics, and the cooperation of the county health, welfare agencies, and your Tuberculosis association.

Your Tuberculosis association is supported solely by the Sale of Christmas seals.

Your Tuberculosis sanatorium is supported by taxes. The tax money is spent for the sanatorium and care of the patients. The Sunny Hill Sanatorium Tax bill must be renewed November 2, 1954. It will be voted on a separate ballot.

Quackgrass And Crabgrass

Quackgrass is one of the pesky weeds that are benefited by the foolish practice of annually burning the dead vegetation on vacant lots and on meadows in outlying subdivisions. Its vigorous root systems survive and spread until it replaces the good grasses, clover and other desirable plants which are destroyed by such fires. Many people confuse quackgrass with Crabgrass.

Quackgrass is a perennial and a member of the Berberis Tribe. Native in Europe, it appeared in Connecticut about 1750. Now it infests most of our northern states and southern Canada because, before it was designated by law as a noxious weed, its seeds were often carelessly included with those of bluegrass and timothy. Being adapted to a cool climate, it is not found in the southern states or the southwestern prairies.

Quackgrass sends up long slender stems with flat narrow leaves and is sometimes mistaken for timothy. The seed head, however, is more like that of wheat and western wheatgrass; and it sends out long underground runners with knot-like joints. Branches develop at many of the joints and those may branch again. At any joint, fibrous roots may develop and a leafy stem push up thru the ground to become another plant. Thus it spreads both by its seeds and its rootstocks—called "rhizomes"—and, even when these are chopped up by a farm implement, each joint left in the soil may sprout roots and grow.

Quackgrass is so hard to kill that it has many harsh names such as Witchgrass and Devil's Grass. The most effective means of control appears to be spraying with a liquid chemical that has a long name abbreviated to "TCA".

Livestock will eat the new tender quackgrass in early spring; and in North Dakota, for instance, some farmers cut two crops of quackgrass hay each year, but it is poor feed and we understand that many thousands of acres have been abandoned as grazing lands because of it. The best thing to be said for the plant is that it is an excellent soilbinder on slopes and sandy ground subject to erosion.

Crabgrass, an annual and a member of the Millet Tribe, is another European plant that has become one of the worst pests in gardens, lawns and golf courses of the East, Middle West and South. It is one of the fastest-growing weeds and spreads not only from its seeds but also from its branching stems which sprawl on the ground and take root at the joints. In late spring, when the plants are young, they can be easily pulled up and destroyed but later this becomes a chore and, if, one tiny root is left in the ground, the plant will grow and re-establish itself. As we say of a cat: "It has nine lives."

The two principal species of crabgrass and their several varieties are also known as Summer Grass, Finger Grass and by other descriptive names. The large species has thin leaves from 3 to 6 inch long, and a half-inch or less in width, which are rather hairy. The seeds are borne on a cluster of from 3 to 5 spikes, like fingers, at the tip of the seed stalk. Since this, too, may lie almost flat and be missed by a lawn mower, vigilance is required to prevent crabgrass from reseeding itself. The smaller species is similar but the leaves are not hairy. Both may be controlled by spraying or dusting with various chemicals but potassium cyanate is now generally recommended, for home owners, because it is nonpoisonous, cheap and easy to apply.

Crabgrass has some value as a forage plant and in parts of Europe it is cultivated for its seeds which, cooked in milk, like sago, are highly nutritious.

Sprinkled over quackgrass leaves, that might be a tasty dish—for a goat.

GERMAN IFYE DELEGATE ARRIVES IN ILLINOIS

Miss Erika Lubbert, Neustadt, Germany will spend the next two months on Henry county farms as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate.

She is the first of several foreign young men and women who will live with Illinois farm families this summer, says E. I. Filchard, chairman of the state IFYE committee. In the other half of the exchange, young people from Illinois will go to Europe and South America this year to live and work on farms in those countries.

Four young farmers from Indiana are due in Illinois on May 16 to live for three months on farms in Bond, Livingston and Carroll counties. Another group of five Indian delegates will also come to the state for the following three months.

Miss Lubbert comes from a 175-acre farm in Germany whose main crops include seed potatoes, sugar beets, vegetables and grain. The family also raises 50 head of dairy cattle. She has been a member of the German Farm Youth Organization since 1949 and has been chairman of county and district committee for girls' work.

On June 28 she will go to Idaho for two months. She is scheduled to return to Germany on August 27.

Quick-Scenes

George Lengerich, the veterinarian, was seen giving a black, wiggly "piglet" the "squeal" for its life.

W. A. Muelher was nonchalantly walking his gas power mower down the sidewalk to his grass cutting destination.

That was Mrs. Sam Centers dressed in her fire truck red blouse and bandana with colorful matching skirt and shoes coming out of Royal Blue carrying a green shopping bag full of groceries.

Hilda at her sweet shop finally exclaimed, "Where on earth do you kids get all this Canadian money?"

That was Danny Carroll in the rain galloping his horse home.

William Zemeske puts a blade of grass between his two thumbs—then blows.

Roger Olsen moans, "Everybody caught a fish but I!"

Even after an hour of pleading, Louis Akers couldn't get his horse Shadow out of his statue posing mood on Wolf road last Wednesday.

That is not a miniature bird cage containing a parakeet that you see Mr. Frank Pretzel carrying daily. It's a golden wire novelty peek-a-booo purse with her dainty green kerchief peeking through.

"It's another ringer!" yells Al Egness during the horse shoe game at his city visitor opponent, Salve Voland worryingly dabs his sweating brow.

That small scale hot rod, driven by Edward Gerrard and son Jimmy was whizzing roaringly and loudly but not of fright and outrage, but probably competing determinedly for equality on the highway.
A toothless lady struggles with contentment on a piece of candy while just waiting at the Boleman drug store.
